Course Description

Many professional services firms know they need insurance to protect their business, but finding the time to understand how the pieces of the insurance puzzle fit together is often the last priority in their busy schedules. During this course we will use common claim scenarios to illustrate how a well-integrated insurance program works, giving professional services firms a concise resource for understanding insurance.
Learning Objectives

Participants will:

- Become familiar with professional liability, property, casualty, and other insurance coverages professional services firms should know about
- Review claim scenarios
- Consider where insurance coverage exists for a wide array of claims
- Understand how a holistic insurance program fits together
PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY COVERAGE
Claim Scenario

A national company hired a marketing consulting firm to create a presentation for one of their large clients. The employee of the marketing consulting firm who worked on the presentation had oversold their PowerPoint skills on their resume. When the presentation was given to the national company’s existing client there were typographical errors and a logo from a competitor on a few of the pages. The national company’s client cancelled their account resulting in a monthly loss of $8,000 in revenue to the company.

any actual or alleged Bodily Injury or Property Damage.
GENERAL LIABILITY COVERAGE
Claim Scenario

A management consulting firm hosts sales training sessions at a local public library. During one of the sessions a participant tripped over the electrical cords from the trainer’s projector and sprained his ankle. The participant claims that the trainer was negligent in the setup of the equipment.
Where Do You Find Coverage?

The general liability policy covers medical expenses for "bodily injury" caused by an accident:

(1) On premises you own or rent;
(2) On ways next to premises you own or rent; or
(3) Because of your operations;

provided that the accident takes place in the "coverage territory" and during the policy period;

The Medical expenses portion of general liability insurance pays reasonable expenses for:

(1) First aid administered at the time of an accident;
(2) Necessary medical, surgical, and x-ray services; and
(3) Necessary ambulance, hospital, and professional nursing services.
What Other Coverage Might Be Found in a General Liability Policy?

- Bodily Injury
- Property Damage
- Personal Injury
- Premises Rented to you
- Medical Payments
- Advertising Injury

General Liability - Covered Damages
General Liability Insurance

Common General Liability Risks for Professionals:

AUTO LIABILITY COVERAGE
Claim Scenario

An employee was driving on company business running errands. The employee was stopped at a red light waiting to turn right on red. There was a person on a bicycle waiting on the sidewalk to cross the road in front of the employee. As the employee proceeded forward to begin his right turn, he did not see the bicyclist begin to cross the road. The employee rolled forward 3-5 feet and bumped the bicyclist knocking him down. There were witnesses who confirmed that the employee’s light was red and that the bicyclist was in the crosswalk when struck. There were also allegations that the driver was on his cell phone. The employee admitted to seeing the bicyclist before striking him. Whether cell phone usage was a factor or not, it is clear the inattentiveness of the employee resulted in the collision with the bicyclist. While it appeared to be a minor bump, the bicyclist had to have extensive medical treatment.
Definitions

- Owned Automobile - a company owned vehicle.

- Hired Automobile - a particular type of auto included as a covered auto under the policy. With certain exceptions, the term refers to autos the named insured leases, hires, rents, or borrows.
